Sport has the potential to transform the lives of women and girls for the better, yet the opportunities are not always there for them. We need your help to create a future where everyone can benefit from sport – regardless of gender and creating a happier, healthier future for women and girls. Building a better world through sport.

to place sport at the service of humankind; the fight against doping; the promotion of sports ethics and fair play; awareness of environmental problems; financial and educational support for developing countries; and many other areas.

We can only be the change we wish to see if we rally around our cause and mobilise our skill sets to take action, to enact effective change together.

Only then can every female athlete fully realise her dreams through sport.

I would also like to Thank all the ladies who express interest and enthusiasm to joint us .

This is why I decide to stay in close contact and cooperate with all of them for a better future.

"If we are here it is because we can make a difference,"

"We can remove the barriers that have maintained a status for longer than we want to admit.

Why, because our core business is sport – and sport can be and is a catalyst for change expressed hope for the future of women in sport "
